Vocabulary: Conversations & Writing

Creating sentences putting vocabulary words together into a conversation is a good way to learn both the content and the terms. Have students work in pairs.

- Have students list the vocabulary words. If the words are from a content area, have them explain the content by using the terms.
- Student partners check off the terms as they are used only if they understand what the words mean by how they are used.
- The conversation continues until both Partners have used and checked off all terms.
